EDUCATION

Doctor of Linguistics, Ghent University

Oct 2021 – present

Master of Linguistics and Literature: Dutch-English, Ghent University – Summa Cum Laude

Sep 2020 – Sep 2021

General Linguistics & Research Specialisation

Erasmus, English and General Linguistics, King's College London – First (A)*

Sep 2019 – Jan 2020

Exchange programme

Bachelor of Linguistics and Literature: Dutch-English, Ghent University – Magna Cum Laude

Sep 2017 – Sep 2020

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

Doctoral Researcher, Ghent University

Nov 2022 – present

Research project aimed at examining how phonetic variation in native and non-native English accents affects intelligibility and spoken word recognition for non-native listeners of English (supervisors: Prof. dr. Ellen Simon & Prof. dr. Holger Mitterer).

Predocctoral Researcher, Ghent University

Oct 2021 – Sep 2022

Research project on the comprehensibility, accentedness and intelligibility of native and non-native accents of English to high-proficiency English as a Foreign Language learners in Flanders (supervisor: Prof. dr. Ellen Simon).

OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Visiting Researcher, Pompeu Fabra University, Spain

Planned Summer-Fall 2025

Host supervisor: Prof. dr. Miquel Llompart

Fieldwork and Data Collection, University College London, United Kingdom

Nov 2024

Host supervisor: Prof. dr. Stuart Rosen

Visiting Researcher, MARCS Institute for Brain, Behaviour and Development, Western Sydney University, Australia

Nov 2023 – Dec 2023

Host supervisor: Prof. dr. Paola Escudero

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Language variation
- Phonology and phonetics
- Psycholinguistics
- Second language acquisition
- Speech perception and production

TEACHING

English Linguistics: Accents of English: Historical and Contemporary Perspectives (A006660; Ma), Ghent University

Planned Spring 2026

Two guest lectures on experimental methods in phonetic research.

Bachelor's Dissertation: Seminar Linguistics (A006737; Ba3), Ghent University

Planned Spring 2026

Individual coaching sessions for students who want to conduct experimental linguistic research.

English Linguistics: Introduction (A005753A; Ba1), Ghent University

Planned Nov 2025

Guest lecture on World Englishes and the sound system of General British and American English.

English Linguistics: Phonology (A005758; Ba2), Ghent University

Nov 2024

Guest lecture on second language acquisition and second language phonology.

Oct 2023

Guest lecture on consonant possibilities and the consonants of English.

Since 2021

Hands-on tutorials aimed at introducing students to Praat speech analysis software.

English Linguistics: General Language Proficiency (A005751; Ba1), Ghent University

Jan 2020 – Jun 2021

Teaching Assistant for the writer development component of English Language Proficiency I.

Sept 2018 – Jun 2021

Writing Mentor for the writer development component of English Language Proficiency I.

Apr 2023

FWO PhD Fellowship Fundamental Research, Fonds voor Wetenschappelijk Onderzoek – Vlaanderen (1178623N)
Nov 2022 – Oct 2026

Internal Funding

CWO Travel Grant for Academic Conferences Abroad, Faculty Research Fund, Ghent University (EUR 800)
The 11th International Symposium on the Acquisition of Second Language Speech (New Sounds), Toronto, Canada

CWO Travel Grant for Academic Conferences Abroad, Faculty Research Fund, Ghent University (EUR 664)
Aug 2022
55th Annual Meeting of the Societas Linguistica Europaea (SLE), Bucharest, Romania

SERVICES

OAP Representative in the Department Council

Jan 2025 - present

Representing early-career researchers in the Linguistics Department Council.

Language and Speech Journal Club

Jan 2024 - present

Together with Mariia Baltais, I organise monthly meetings to discuss recent papers within the fields of psycholinguistics and neurolinguistics, natural language processing, clinical linguistics and translation studies. The aim of the journal club is not only to stay updated with the state-of-the-art literature in language sciences, but also to bridge the gap between various departments at Ghent University (i.e. Department of Linguistics, Department of Psychology, Department of Translation, Interpreting and Communication, and Department of Rehabilitation Sciences).

Thesis Supervision

Sara Descamps (ongoing). Title TBD (BA paper; Role: Co-supervisor; Supervisor: Prof. dr. Ellen Simon).

Marte Huygens (2024). Non-native listeners' perception of Spanish-accented English: An exploration of accentedness, comprehensibility and intelligibility, and the role of L2 proficiency (MA paper; Role: Co-supervisor; Supervisor: Prof. dr. Ellen Simon).

Marte Huygens (2023). The glottal stop: Production in the casual speech of West Flemish adolescents. (BA paper; Role: Co-supervisor; Supervisor: Prof. dr. Ellen Simon).

Marjan Janssens (2022). EFL learners vs. the World Englishes: The comprehensibility and accentedness of varieties of English according to secondary school students (BA paper; Role: Co-supervisor; Supervisor: Prof. dr. Ellen Simon).

Hannelore Huyghe (2022). Listen up! Flemish secondary school pupils' general attitudes towards English varieties and their assessment of the comprehensibility and accentedness of native and non-native English varieties (BA paper; Role: Co-supervisor; Supervisor: Prof. dr. Ellen Simon).

Peer-Review

Review for conference submissions (Belgian Association of Anglicists in Higher Education (BAAHE); Budapest CEU Conference on Cognitive Development (BCCCD); International Congress of Phonetic Sciences (ICPhS); LinGhentian Doctorials; New Sounds) and manuscript submissions (Cogent Arts & Humanities; Studies in Second Language Acquisition).
